RIGID ENFORCEMENT WILL GOVERN LOCAL DAIRY SANITATION

Dr. Ralph Herendeen, City Health Officer, Will Soon Issue White List; Impartially Will Be the Rule.

In view of the milk agitation which has been more or less in progress since the incorporation of more stringent methods of legislation relative to an output of a sanitary dairy supply, the intent methods to be pursued by the Bisbee dairy authorities are of considerable interest and great local importance.

Dr. Ralph Herendeen, city health officer, talked in an interesting and comprehensive manner to a Review reporter last evening, relative to the methods to be pursued in enforcing the statutes which insist that the milk supply for the residents of Bisbee shall be thoroughly measuring up to the standards of strictest sanitation.

"The city health officer is going to see that there is absolutely no partiality shown," declared Dr. Herendeen, in telling of the rigid methods of enforcement which will be carried into effect. This remark was induced by reference to the fact that formerly some innovations have been made to the effect that partially was shown in the rulings relative to the official rating of milk dealers.

A "white list" similar to that published last year will shortly be completed and ready for publication. This list is exceedingly valuable, from the standpoint of maintenance of a high standard of health sanitation. This year's standard will be even higher than that of the preceding season. It should be ready for publication within a few days. It will contain the names of the milk dealers who maintain a reasonably high degree of cleanliness in their milk production. Regulation of the milk supply of Bisbee will not be confined to the larger dairies but will include every dealer, however small. In fact not one person entitled by license to sell milk to local residents will be overlooked. With the coming of the summer season the danger from milk impurities becomes greater than before and, recognizing this fact, the health authorities are hastening to execute the mandates of the law in all thoroughness.

In order that the public mind may rest assured that there will be no such thing as partiality in the execution of the pure milk laws, it may be well to mention the system whereby Dr. Herendeen will catalogue the names of those entitled to place on the "white list," without himself being aware of their identity. Under the present system an officer, duly appointed by the city marshal, will take the sample from the milk cans, marking each sample numerically and giving to each driver a receipt bearing the number applied to each milk bottle. Dr. Herendeen will then catalogue the numbers of the dealers entitled to place on the "white list," without being aware as to their identity. After the doctor has completed his examination the numbers will be duly submitted to the officer and compared with his list, thereby the names of the "white list" dealers will be accurately ascertained.

Local samples will be compared with those analyzed in the state laboratory in Tucson. It is understood that the state officials intend to be stricter than ever in their enforcement of this law.

Dr. Herendeen is himself intensely interested in the work of maintaining a high standard of dairy sanitation in Bisbee. With this end in view he is superintending the work of inspection with tireless enthusiasm and energy. He is thoroughly determined that the work shall be pursued thoroughly, promptly and absolutely impartially.

FINE FEATURES ARE BOOKED BY ORPHEUM

The Hawaiian concert at the Orpheum last night was a real treat and for the benefit of those unable to find seats, the big act will be shown again tonight in conjunction with Daniel Frohman's great Paramount Master Feature "His Last Dollar." This is David Higgins' greatest play and it is a pleasure to see him starring in his famous success.

For Friday and Saturday, Blanche Bates will be seen in her world-renowned play, "The Girl of the Golden West." Friday will also be the big double Mercurian night.

On Sunday America's greatest emotional actress, Mrs. Leslie Carter, will be seen in a film version of her greatest success "The Heart of Maryland." This is a David Belasco production and the staging was under the direction of Herbert Brenon, the producer of "Neptune's Daughter."

"I like this quaint little mountain village of yours, waiter. I suppose I can get plenty of oxygen here." "No, sir; we've got local option."
